Beaches & Swimming Holes

The Cape Tribulation section of Daintree National park is home to many beautiful tropical beaches several of which you may have almost to yourself. Curl your toes in the white sands and stroll along the Jurassic coastline of these wild secluded beaches.

The ones in the immediate vicinity are Cape Tribulation Beach, Myall Beach and South Myall (known as Coconut Beach by locals).

From November to May there are box jellyfish (known as stingers) present in the ocean so swimming is not recommended without a stinger suit. Fortunately, one of the highlights of a trip to the tropical rainforest is a refreshing dip in a crystal clear freshwater creek - perfect for cooling off during the summer months! Swim with native fish and freshwater turtles or maybe receive a prawn pedicure!

There are two swimming holes nearby. The nearest one is at Masons Café & Shop which is on private land but Lawrence Mason kindly allows access to the public for a gold coin donation. To access the Masons swimming hole, turn right at the bottom of Camelot Close onto Cape Tribulation Road and Masons café is on the right - head through the café and over the field and you'll find steps down to the creek on the right hand side of the path in the rainforest.

The Emmogen creek swimming holes are home to some good sized Jungle Perch & Mangrove Jacks. To reach Emmogen creek swimming holes, turn left at the bottom of Camelot Close and follow the road past Kulki-Cape tribulation Headland and the Cape Trib Beach House until you reach Emmogen Creek flowing across the road (the last part of the road is unsealed gravel road). There is space to park either on the right before you can see the creek (just before the sign that says 4WD only past this point) or on the left just before the creek. The track to the swimming holes departs from behind the carparking spaces on the left hand side of the road just back from the creek. A ten minute walk will take you through the rainforest, take the path to the right where the track forks, then at the next point where the track splits - the right fork takes you to the larger swimming hole and the left takes you through a grove of spear bamboo to another swimming hole.

From June to October the box jellyfish disappear and some people choose to swim in the ocean. There are crocodile warning signs at all entrances to beaches and anyone visiting the area needs to be aware that Tropical North Queensland is croc habitat and there is always the possibility of crocodiles in the ocean. We do not recommend swimming in the ocean anymore due to regular crocodile sighting in recent years and NEVER swim near the mouths of creeks.

Bloomfield 4WD Track

The 4WD Bloomfield Road from Cape Tribulation to Cooktown (also known as the Bloomfield Track or Coast Road) is one of Australia's most scenic drives. This 4WD route travels through the heart of the Wet Tropics and features world-heritage listed rainforest, waterfalls, creek crossings, rainforest-clad ranges and stunning views.

If you have your own 4WD, we would thoroughly recommend a day trip on the Bloomfield track to Wujal Wujal Falls (approx. 1 hr drive) or all the way to Cooktown (approx. 2.5hr drive). Explore Cowie beach and stop for a swim in the Woobadda creek on the way to Wujal Wujal falls or enjoy a beer at the iconic Lions Den hotel, walk to the falls at Home Rule, check out the Black Mountain and the lilies at Keatings Lagoon on the way to Cooktown.

A new Bloomfield Track Experience Guide is now available as an ebook to enhance your exploration of the Coastal road. It can be downloaded at the following address. We recommend that you download the file prior to arrival in the Daintree as internet connection is via satellite so quite limited.

The Bloomfield track is subject to seasonal flooding, slips, loss of traction, potholes and fallen trees. A high clearance four wheel drive is recommended and the road may become impassable without notice. Please turn headlights on at all times and drive according to conditions.
